

A Morning Commute

My workplace is quite a distance from my home, about 50 miles away. Every morning, I need to rise early because I'm always in a hurry. There never seems to be enough time to relax at breakfast. Precisely at 6:00 am, I step into my car and start my long drive.

I generally prefer driving on the highway rather than in the city. However, during the morning rush hour, it's not as pleasant. The heavy traffic can be a little frustrating. So, I often turn on my favourite classical music CDs in the car – Chopin, Mozart, and Bach. It's a great way to lift my spirits.

The journey to my workplace takes about an hour. The return trip home in the evening, after a day's work, takes even longer, perhaps around 70 minutes. Recently, I've been thinking of taking the train to work instead of driving. That way, I could still enjoy my music with headphones and perhaps even delve into a novel during the commute.

Did you understand the text? Answer these questions:

1. When does the person wake up every morning?
 - a) Late in the morning
 - b) At exactly 6:00 AM
 - c) Early in the morning
 - d) After the morning rush hour
2. How is driving during the morning rush hour described?
 - a) It's classical
 - b) Not very enjoyable
 - c) It's relaxing
 - d) Not as much fun as walking
3. What kind of music CDs does the person enjoy listening to in the car?
 - a) Jazz
 - b) Heavy metal
 - c) Disco
 - d) Classical
4. How long might the evening drive back home take?
 - a) 50 minutes
 - b) Less than the drive in the morning
 - c) 70 kilometres
 - d) Around 70 minutes
5. What else does the person think they could do if they took a train to work?
 - a) Read a novel
 - b) Sing songs
 - c) Do crossword puzzles
 - d) Write a book